One way to find videos in the DCMP library is to search for key words, phrases, or a title. You will then see a listing of all the videos with that word or phrase in the title or description.

Another way to find videos is to browse by subject area.

You can set up an account for your child under your account. This allows you to give your child access to only the videos you deem appropriate. Go to the "account" button and from that dropdown choose student to reach this page.

You set up the account for your child and create their unique user name and password. A student account can be shared between parents and that child's teachers. Then there is no need for the child to remember different log in information.
