Community Screening

A new way of gauging people's thoughts and preferences

Example: Netflix uses Matrix Factorization

How does Netflix recommend movies? Matrix Factorization

Benefits of Community Screening

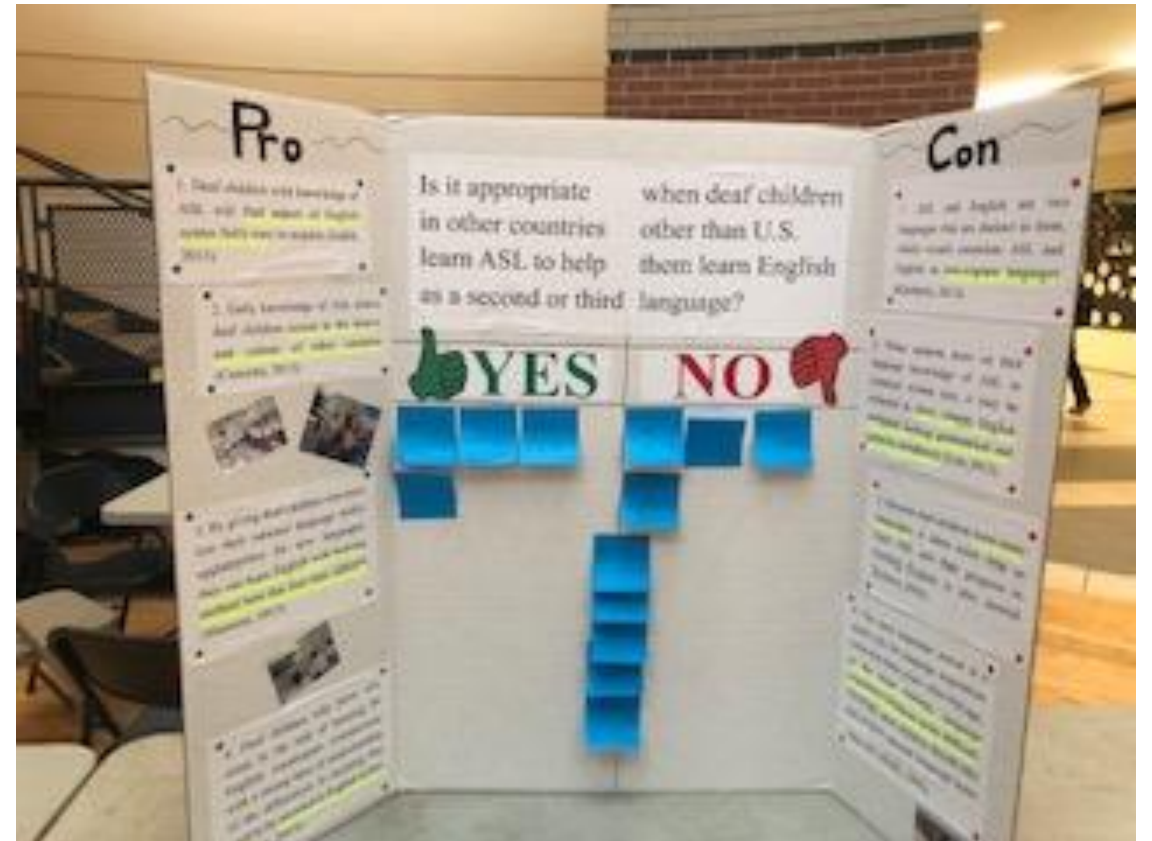

We “get the people in the back of the room”

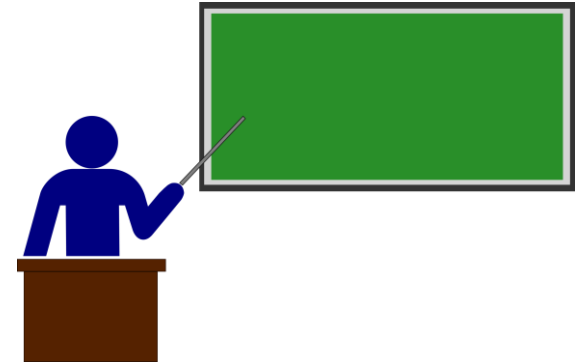

People are more likely to be truthful (and blunt)

Provides customization and trends

Application to Class Projects

It was the Deaf Community First?

Example of De'VIA art by Nancy Rourke

Nope.

“It is the want of language, and not the want of hearing that occasions that deficiency of intelligence, or in expansion of their reasoning faculty, so observable in the naturally deaf and dumb. Give them but language, by which they may designate, classify, compare, and consequently remember, excite, and express their sensations and ideas... beyond the sense of hearing...”

History, continued.

- 1987- Kathryn Meadows was the first to state “language deprivation”
- 2014- Dr. Sanjay Gulati’s YouTube presentation on “Language Deprivation Syndrome” at Brown University became viral (21K views and counting)
- 2015- Dr. Wyatte Hall presents at the American Society for Deaf Children conference on Language Deprivation
- 2018- Language Deprivation and Mental Health published by Neil Glickman & Wyatte Hall

Ok. Now we know the history.

Move on. Social Media today- what do we see?

#LanguageDeprivation are not harsh words. The reality of #LanguageDeprivation happening to Deaf children is harsh.

Many of the same strategies+supports we use in developmental disabilities self-advocacy to communicate with each other also help language-deprived DDBDDHH children, youth, adults. #DeafEd #LanguageDeprivation

Right. They don't have the specific sign for the item, they don't have the ASL classifiers to describe it accurately nor do they have the signs to give context for the item. #deafed #language deprivation

I'm an audiologist & teacher. Just this week I met two 3- & 5-year olds w/ bilateral CIs and NO receptive/expressive spoken language. CIs are sound implants: not language implants, not learning implants. #LanguageDeprivation exists when doctors share misguided beliefs like these deafcounseling Three out of four Deaf children grow up with parents who don't sign. The long-term mental health impact of language deprivation is real. Let's change this by bringing attention to #InternationalWeekofSignLanguages.

I am stepping out in faith to submit this video for consideration in response to a recent post by @stylistjbolin.

It is my dream to one day open an interpreting agency to provide services for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing community in Jackson, MS and surrounding areas. Lack of accessibility, exposure, language deprivation, etc. are very real issues in the Deaf community and I'd like to do my part to help.

Thanks @stylistjbolin and team for considering my submission!! 🙏

Implications?

- Language deprivation is becoming an official term
- Increasingly used by professionals across the spectrum
- We need to have more dialogues and discussion.
- Language deprivation is happening- we may have different views, but let's share our stories and open our minds to each other. Community screening can help us gauge the growth of this.
